ABOUT DENISE

Denise Robinette is the owner of HealthyLiving Interiors, a licensed Interior Designer who specializes in Healthy-n-Green™ Interiors. She started this journey over a decade ago after her second child was diagnosed with asthma . This taught her first hand, how vital a healthy indoor environment is in the prevention and management of asthma. She also found that by implementing healthy-n-green design principles with her clients, it promoted healthy living for all occupants of a space . She educates her clients that by designing “healthy” it will promote wellness and by designing “green” it is good for our global environment. Denise works with homeowners, developers, business owners and public facilities in new or renovated interiors. She offers alternative design solutions to incorporate healthy-n-green design principles without sacrificing any design integrity. She believes you can have it all; a beautiful, functional and healthy-n-green interior. She lives and works in Jupiter, Florida with her three children. www.healthylivinginteriors.com

FOUNDATION

HealthyLiving Foundation was co-founded by Denise in 2002 with a mission to educate the community about indoor air quality issues through knowledge, choices and change. Researchers, policymakers and citizens are educated about the health impact of indoor living environments in order to make the right decisions about protecting the health of our communities. By partnering with local and national organizations, developing educational materials and speaking to policymakers, Denise’s work through HealthyLiving Foundation will help make positive change in our indoor living environments. www.healthylivingfoundation.org

CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS

Working with local and national non-profit organizations is part of Denise’s passion to give back to the global community through education of the importance of the link of our indoor environment to the epidemic increases in current chronic illnesses. She has worked with national organizations such as Center for Health, Environment and Justice and Healthy Schools in their mission to bring awareness to environmental health and its impact on our most vulnerable, our children. She recently was appointed Chair of Advocacy and Community Outreach for the South Florida Asthma Consortium, which covers the Southeast of Florida. She believes that by partnering with other organizations, our children’s voice become louder, bringing positive change to our children’s health and future generations.

Healthy-n-Green™ is... Healthy Indoor Air!

Healthy-n-Green, LLC Published September 2008

This is the first of a series of Environmental Educational Coloring Books to educate students (6th Graders) about the issues of indoor environmental issues. Students are educated through illustrations detailing “problems” and “solutions” to poor indoor air quality. Scientific studies and tips are included on each page relating to specific issues, and resources are provided for further research on each topic. Denise is developing supplemental teaching aids for schools to use in their environmental education curriculum. These series are available to purchase as well as download as an e-coloringbook.

Healthy-n-Green™ is..... Green Building

Healthy-n-Green, LLC Publicity Launch Winter 2009

Denise’s next Environmental Educational Coloring Book is being developed to educate students (7th Graders) about green building. Green Building principles will be detailed, from the initial design of a building to changes in existing building. Energy efficiency, sustainability and healthy principles will be illustrated along with examples of how one persons change can have a positive impact on our global environment. This coloring book will detail room by room, exterior landscaping and building design to give tips about Green Building. Supplemental teaching aids will be available to teachers and schools for further study. These series will be available to purchase as well as download as an e-coloring book.

URWhatUBreathe™ - 12 steps to creating a Healthy-n-Green™ Indoor Environment

Healthy-n-Green, LLC Publicity Launch September 2008

This CD is full of information to educate the listener on the causes of indoor air pollution as well as easy ways to make your indoor living environment healthy-n-green. Denise shares research studies which directly link our environment to the chronic illnesses and diseases we encounter every day. As a licensed Interior Designer who has been designing interiors for over two decades, she began to focus on designing healthy interiors after having a child diagnosed with asthma in 1996. She will empower you through educating you with tips on becoming your own detective and give you 12 steps to create a healthy-n-green environment. These easy steps will make your living environment a healthy place to live and work, one which will promote wellness while being good for our global environment. She is writing a book with the same title, which will be a more in-depth guide to making your indoor environments healthy-n-green, one choice at a time.
